

A View Near the Top

Trees Frame a San Bruno Mountain Road

Mountain Nobody Knows

By GEORGE GOLDING

STANDING NAKED within view of two million people, San Bruno Mountain is probably the Bay Area's most unknown peak. After all, it's private property, and trespass there is not encouraged.

Still, it's part of our daily view, one of the natural resources of the Bay Area, one of the creators of our climate and the influences of our weather.

Its strong shoulders form an anchor point for the hilly headlands of the San Francisco Peninsula, help hold back the bank of fog constantly moving in from the ocean.

Thousands upon thousands of people drive past it each day, to work, to play, and to far-away places.

More thousands fly near its rugged hogbacks and narrow ridges as their planes climb out of San Francisco International Airport.

THOSE THOUSANDS who fly know more of the mountain than the thousands who drive; they see much more of it, for although the peak is visible from Oakland and Hayward and from all over the North Peninsula, very few people visit it, and there is more "inside" the mountain than can be guessed at from viewing the barren outside.

A few lovers, more neckers, some car thieves who come to strip cars and dump them down the steep slopes, an occasional hermit curled up under a cypress, some television broadcast technicians, surveyors, riflemen who bang away at tin cans and bottles, and all the secretive litterbugs who come to hurriedly dump those cans and bottles. These are the habits of San Bruno Mountain.

The flanks of the huge hill shelter four cities, two good-sized quarries, a pig farm, several flower nurseries mingled with cemeteries, potato and onion farms, scores of industries, schools and thousands of homes.

THE RIDGES afford a view of the Bay and the ocean at the same time, a magnificent sweep of the Bay Area that cannot be duplicated.

It is within walking distance for those who have stout, stout legs, from hundreds of homes in San Francisco and Daly City.

Yet San Bruno peak has fewer visitors than Mount Diablo or Mount Tamalpais, those two other anchors that form a triangular brace for the central Bay Area, but which must be reached by long auto drives.

It has fewer visitors, probably, than Mount Hamilton, the observatory peak east of San Jose.

SAN BRUNO MOUNTAIN has sylvan glades, groves of eucalyptus trees and clumps of cypress.

There are bold ridges marching eastward and westward, nearly sheer drops where canyons cut away to the bedroom communities far below.

There is a winding dirt road leading up from Brisbane, a worn-out paved driveway from Daly City, a spectacular curving al-

Dennis Seeks 5th Term On D.C. Council

Edward J. Dennis, senior member of the Daly City Council, today announced his intention to seek re-election to a fifth term in April.

He is the first of three councilmen whose seats will be up for election to declare his candidacy. The other councilmen are Michael DeBernardi and Bernard Lycett, both of whom are expected also to declare their candidacies.

A veteran of 16 years on the council, Dennis led the ticket when he last ran for re-election in 1962. Only one other Daly City councilman, the late Hugh H. Smith, served on the council longer than Dennis.

Smith, a former mayor, served 22 years. Dennis was first elected in 1944. In a bid for re-election in 1948, he lost by four votes. He came back in 1952 to gain his second term but lost out again on a re-election try in 1956.

In 1958, he gained a seat once again. In declaring his candidacy, Dennis said he was seeking re-

Pair Is Fatally Hurt in Crash On D.C. Freeway

A 7-year-old South San Francisco boy died Friday night and a Colma woman died a day later from injuries suffered in an automobile accident on the Edgemar Freeway near Skyline Boulevard in Daly City.

Daniel Prince, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Prince of 716 Baden Avenue, South San Francisco, was fatally injured when his parent's small, foreign-made car unaccountably stalled on the freeway and was struck in the rear by a following vehicle after two other autos barely swerved in time to avoid a collision.

Mrs. Ida May Wright, 72, of 423 C Street, Colma, died Saturday of injuries suffered in the same accident.

Deputy Coroner Robert Cole said the child suffered massive head injuries when he was hurled from the rear seat of the vehicle into the dashboard in front.

Officers said his parents and two other persons injured in the accident were taken to Mary's Help Hospital for emergency treatment.

Although the officers had radioed ahead to have a surgeon standing by, the boy died at 3:35 a.m., some eight hours after the crash.

Ruptured Appendix Is Fatal

A Daly City girl who had complained of stomach pains during the New Year's weekend died Sunday night of a ruptured appendix on the way to Mary's Help Hospital.

Patricia Samuelson, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Samuelson of 44 Crestview Drive, was rushed to the hospital and was pronounced dead on arrival at 7 p.m.

The girl was a student at Benjamin Franklin School in Daly City.

In addition to her parents, she was survived by five brothers and sisters.

Funeral services were held at Duggan's Serra Mortuary in Daly City yesterday morning. Interment was in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Police Clerk Is Suspended In Daly City

A Daly City Police Department clerk has been suspended on improper bookkeeping charges.

The clerk, Mrs. Janet O. Colburn, 49, of 30 Belhaven Avenue, Daly City, was relieved of her duties December 23.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi said Mrs. Colburn took department records home and did not return them.

An investigation of the charges is now being made by his department and by the city manager's office, Petrocchi said.

At the time of her suspension, Mrs. Colburn had been involved with "clerical duties," the chief said.

Recently, he said, she had been transferred from the department's warrants desk. This job involved itemizing citations issued by other police agencies to Daly City residents and handling fines remitted for the citations.

Under civil service law, a hearing must be called within 30 days in connection with the suspension and formal charges levied. Mrs. Colburn would be asked to file an answer within this period.

She has been with the department since August 7, 1963 and is classified as a clerk-typist, according to city personnel records.

6 Children Rescued In D.C. Blaze

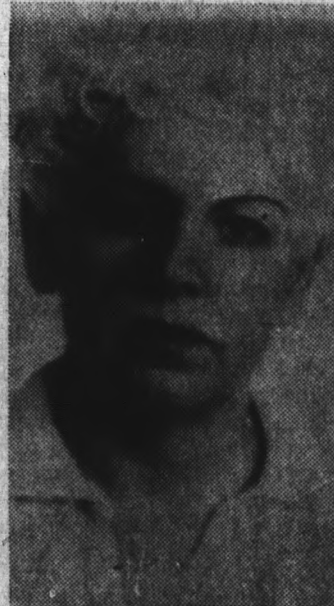

Six small children were rescued from their home at 270 Vista Grande Avenue last week by a Daly City woman who fled from the house before the rear of it erupted in such flames that a home next door was badly damaged.

According to Asst. Fire Chief Keith Schrock of Daly City, the fire apparently started when 4-year-old Suzie Bain, whose mother was not home at the time, dropped something in a heater in a downstairs bedroom.

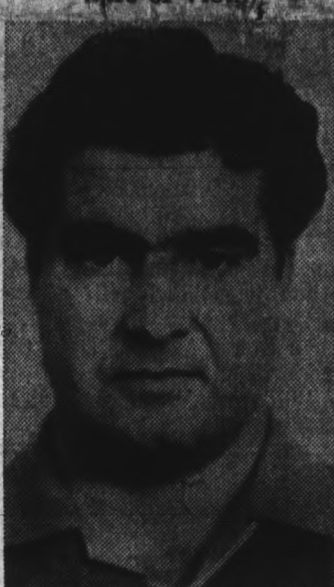

When flames broke out and spread to a ceiling and walls, Mrs. Valerie Newton, who also occupies the home and who was upstairs rushed down and made a futile attempt to extinguish the fire.

When it got out of control, however, Mrs. Newton herded the children, ranging in age from 4 to 8, out of the house and to a neighbor's around the corner on San Diego Avenue, from where she telephoned firemen.

Fire Capt. Lyle Church said by the time fire trucks approached the scene the entire

Leaves For Maternity Questioned

JESD to Study Its Policies

By BERENICE PALMER

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night agreed to re-view maternity leaves for teachers.

The action was taken after Trustee Peter Galiano questioned a leave for Patricia DeBock, a homemaking teacher at Benjamin Franklin School, who has asked that her leave end June 7. The school year would end shortly thereafter.

Galiano asked: "How can a teacher evaluate her class after such an absence?"

District Superintendent Frank Greenwood agreed. He observed: "A sustained leave of absence, followed by a return for a short period, would not be in the best interests of education."

Assistant Supt. Vinton Stratton observed that in many cases, the substitute teacher's valuation could be used. Board Chairman Thomas Noonan suggested that the general policy of maternity leave be reviewed and that some recommendation for change be made at a future meeting.

In other business, Stratton described the reasons for a varying need for substitute teachers.

During the week before Christmas, he said, because of many cases of influenza, 38 substitutes were needed while this week only five are required.

When approval for hiring five noon-time supervisors was requested by Asst. Supt. Roger Barthull, it was questioned by Trustee George Perry.

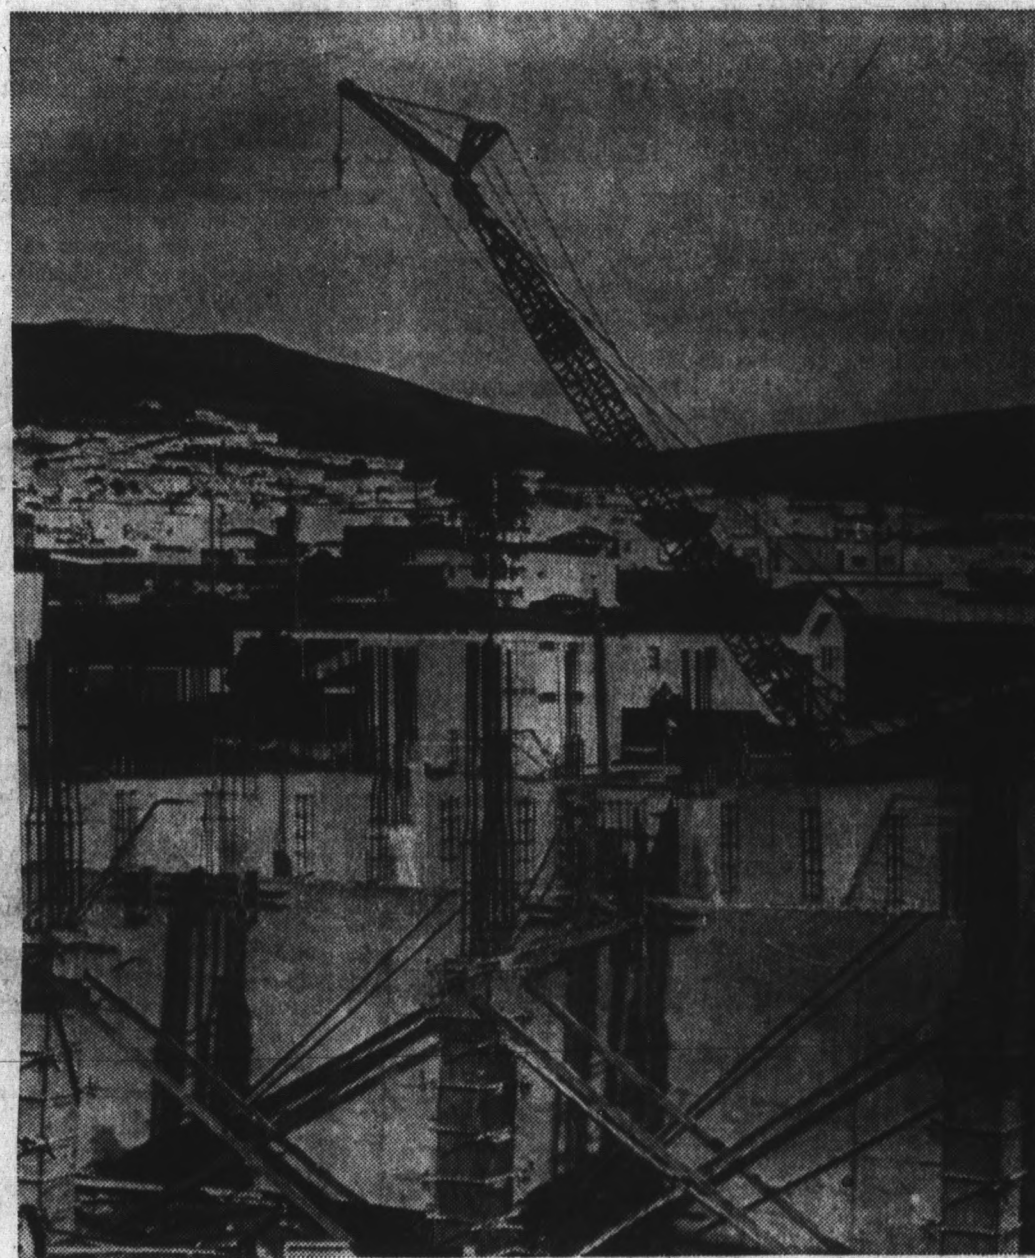

Greenwood reminded the board that hiring of supervisors had been approved at previous meetings of the board.

The trustees, on the motion of Joseph Lewkowicz, approved a pay rate for the supervisors of $2 per hour.

In the last item of business, Stratton discussed the major provision of the Miller-Uriah Act, which will provide remed-

ANITA ROBERTSON
Dies at 43

Anita Robertson, 43, South San Francisco's Planning Officer since October, 1960, died Monday night at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco after an illness of several months.

She had previously served on the city's planning commission, and was South San Francisco's first woman planning commissioner when named to that post in 1956. She was chairman of that board four years.

She was appointed to the plans board after being a candidate for city council in the elections of April, 1956, and had previously been a leader in the Winston Manor Home Owner's Association.

Mrs. Robertson served on the county advisory planning council, and participated in regional planning conferences conducted by the University of California.

The death came as the end of a period of hospitalization that began when she was first confined in August for pneumonia. She was in a San Francisco hospital during late summer and

Car Wash Plan Held Up Again

The Daly City Planning Commission last week again withheld action on a controversial proposal to open a coin-operated car wash at 999 Hillside Boulevard, near Colma School.

Commission chairman Melvin Taylor asked for an opinion from the city attorney's office on provisions of the zoning ordinance that apply to car wash businesses.

Ricco Lagomarsino of 15 West Moltke Street, Daly City, the owner of the land questioned the validity of the provisions.

A delegation from the Hillside Homeowners Association presented a letter, protesting the car wash proposal.

A representative of the group said the letter had been approved after a vote of association members.

At a meeting of the commission in November, association members charged that the car wash would create too much traffic near Colma School.

In the letter, they said the car wash would lower the value of their homes.

The car wash would be operated by John C. Smith of 243 Station Avenue, Daly City, the applicant. The proposal will be considered again at a meeting of the commission January 11.

In other business, the commission received a report from its administrative staff that a use permit is needed for the operation of a rent-a-car business at any gas station.

At its last meeting, the commission turned down an application for a sign advertising a new rent-a-car operation at Fred's Westlake Shell Station at 505 Skyline Drive.

Commissioners at that time questioned whether a use permit would be required for the new operation.

City Planner Edward Lawson said that the station's owners have applied for a use permit and that it will be considered at the commission's January 11 meeting.

Action on an application from the California Cable Communications Corporation of San Francisco to erect a 30-foot high antenna on a city reservoir site between 813 and 827 Skyline Drive was deferred, pending a report from city departments on use of city land for the antenna.

The corporation earlier this year received a franchise from the city to operate a community antenna system in the Skyline Drive area.

In other action, the commission approved an application from Lurline Cooper of 1670 Annie election because he felt Daly City was at a "crucial turning point in becoming the largest city in San Mateo County."

Completion of the city's new civic center, now under construction, and proper development of the city's new Serramonte subdivision and completion of an "adequate" road system are a few of the problems that will face Daly City during the next few years, he said.

Dennis is president and business representative of the Milk Drivers' and Dairy Employees' Union, Local 226, of San Francisco and San Mateo Counties. He has held the post for 20 years.

He holds an honorary life membership in the Jefferson School P.T.A.

His civic and fraternal activities include membership in George Washington Lodge 525, F&AM, the San Francisco Square Club, the Burlingame Consistory, the Hillside Homeowners Improvement Association, Elks Lodge 2091, Fraternal Order of Eagles 1848 and the Fryers Club of San Mateo County.

He also is a life member of the Organization for Democratic Republican Independent Voter Education.

Dennis lives at 99 Teresa Street with his wife, Hilda. The couple celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary last year.

They are the parents of two children—Edward J. Dennis Jr. and Carolyn Dennis.

al reading teachers in grades one, two and three.

The state would reimburse the district for 1 per cent of each teacher's salary and would also contribute $500 towards the school librarian's salary for each teacher in the school.

One of the main purposes of the act, Stratton said, is to encourage the maintenance of school libraries.

Greenwood reported that 10 more remedial reading teachers will be hired. They are now serving in seven schools. Pupils will be tested and placed with teachers in small groups, although facilities are not yet available.

Firemen said that it took some 15 minutes to bring the blaze under control.

Firemen were at the scene for more than three hours.

Although actual structural damage was confined to the rear of the home, heat was so intense throughout the structure that damage to the home and contents was estimated at $23,000. Damage to the Kahlow home was placed at $1,000.

Firemen had to enter the home with self-contained breathing units after heat and smoke blew out a window, scattering glass outside of the home.

The family had to be taken to a friend's home, firemen said.

2 SCHOOL DISTRICTS Bond Issue Drive Will Be Launched

The Jefferson Elementary and Jefferson High School Districts tomorrow night will formally launch their drive for voter support of bond elections each district will hold January 25.

The "launching" will take place at a kickoff meeting for the public at 8 in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School.

Dr. Earl Herald, chairman of a joint drive committee, will preside.

Representatives of the Bayshore, Brisbane and Laguna Salada Elementary School Districts have been invited to attend as observers.

The Jefferson Elementary School District is seeking voter approval of a $3-million bond issue that would provide funds for the construction of an intermediate school on a site south of the St. Francis Square Shopping Center in Daly City.

Dr. Herald this week noted that to date no organization has voiced opposition to the bond issues.

to the Parking Commission, and George Coulter and Joseph Manarez to the Recreation Board.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli won approval of his provisional appointment of John Collins as superintendent of sanitation.

Councilmen closed the session, agreeing to strengthen an earlier suggestion that San Bruno Mountain be made into a regional park, upon the urging of Arthur McGuire, 114 Drake Avenue.

McGuire suggested that South San Francisco might wish to contact Daly City, Colma, and Brisbane again, and see whether those communities would join in the park plan.

Councilmen approved two street name changes which effectively eliminate the last public trace of developers Haas and Haynie from the industrial park that once bore their names.

From now on, Haas Way will be known as Wattis Way, and Haynie Way will become Corey Way.

13 FIRE TRUCKS

Daly City Gets Two New Pumpers

Daly City took delivery of the first of two new, $24,500 fire trucks last week and was scheduled to receive its second early this week.

The new engines boost to 13 the number of pumpers, hydraulic aerial ladder trucks and special trucks in the fire department.

Each of the new trucks has a heavy duty chassis and is capable of pumping 1,250 gallons of water per minute.

The trucks were purchased after public bid from the American La France Company. Equipment costing about $9,000 will be mounted on each vehicle.

The pumpers will be put through an exhaustive series of acceptance tests under the supervision of Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann. Equipment will be installed after the tests.

The first truck to be delivered will be called Engine 2 and will be based at Station 5 on Lincoln Avenue.

It will replace a pumper that will be shifted to the Bayshore Station to replace in turn a 1949 engine that will be placed on reserve.

The second new pumper also will be based at Station 5. It will replace Engine 5, which will become Engine 7, based at the city's new Serramonte Fire Station, located in a structure provided by Suburban Realty, developers of Serramonte.

With the acquisition of the new pumpers, the fire department has seven "first line" pumper engines, three reserve engines, two aerial ladder trucks and a specialized truck for fighting grass fires in rough terrain.

Vandals slashed the movie screen at the Serra Theatre at Ninetieth Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City Thursday morning, causing an estimated $1,200 damage to the screen.

WINDOW BROKEN
Donald Smith of 349 Palomar Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had fired BB's through a rear window of his residence.

Theater officials said the vandals entered the building sometime between 7 and 8:45. In addition to slashing the screen, the vandals also ripped intercom phones from walls, smashed display glass in popcorn and candy counters and stole 16 boxes of candy and three bags of popcorn.

Police reported that the movie screen had been slashed in five places. It could not be immediately determined whether the theater's current double-bill, "The War Lords" and "The Art of Love" would be affected by the vandalism.

Laguna Authorizes Purchase of Crespi School Site

Final details were completed for the purchase of the Crespi Elementary School site in Pacifica at a special meeting of the Laguna Salada School District. John Munt, assistant superintendent, said papers were signed for the purchase of the 15-acre Ken Royce property on which the Crespi School will be built. The cost will be $156,000. Agreement on the price was reached after months of lengthy negotiation between the district and the land owner.

Munt said that another parcel of about four acres adjacent to the site is under negotiation. The owner is Willard Petersen. The location of the school will be 100 yards west of the intersection of Crespi Drive and Fessler Avenue in Linda Mar. Munt estimated the date of completion would be about March, 1967.

QUESTION, golf bugs:

How is it that Willie Mays can stand at home plate with the bags loaded and a game riding on the next pitch, and not be disturbed by 40,000 fans yelling their heads off; how can Sandy Koufax, in full view of 50,000 screaming fanatics, not lose concentration on his next pitch, even though it could mean a pennant, or a World Series; how does Jerry West manage to sink crucial free throws with thousands literally looking down his throat; what makes it possible for Johnny Unitas to call the right play at the proper moment in pandemonium; and with all those people just waiting for the moment he gets chilled, how does Cassius Clay (alias you-know-what) not only stand the pressure but win.

But how is it that if Tony Lema, or Arnold Palmer or even YOU, who plays for 10 cents a hole, is lining up a putt and some asthmatic on the fringes of the crowd wheezes, you or Tony or Arnie handle the putt like Amelia Earhardt navigated the Pacific?

We'd really like one of you golf bugs out there to explain it to us. Is it tradition? Did a prima donna at one time impress golfers enough to be copied universally?

Or, is the real reason something we've always suspected: golfers are not athletes in the accepted sense of the word, but more like a billiard and chess players, who also, coincidentally, require deadly silence to play their game.

NOW, WE KNOW the arguments, of the many fine ex-athletes who have turned successfully to golf. But for every athlete turned golfer you can name, we can name two athletes who have dealt unsuccessfully with golf, which should be roughly proportionate to the number of athletes who can't handle chess, either.

And we know of NO golfer who ever turned successfully to boxing or baseball or basketball or football or etc. Etcetera, incidentally, is a fine game once you learn to understand its many nuances.)

So explain it to us, some one out there. We'll be anxious to understand.

JUST A LITTLE LESS than a year ago we did a piece on fencing, thanks to a fine interview granted by the late San Francisco State fencing instructor, Maestro Erich A. Funke-d'Egnuff, who died weeks after the story appeared in At the Post.

Funke-d'Egnuff was a gracious, good natured man who minded not at all an interrupted meal to tell us of fencing's rapid growth, of the fallacy of "Hollywood" fencing and anecdotes concerning Errol Flynn's pre and post fencing activities, which we never bothered to use because, somehow, platinum blondes didn't seem to be sporting enough for our column.

When Funke-d'Egnuff died, we didn't think State College would ever be fortunate enough to come up with a fencing master of his capabilities, but it now looks like they have—and without even breaking stride.

He's Berenc Marki, rated one of the world's outstanding fencing mentors.

A 1935 graduate of the Toldi Miklos Military Sports and Fencing Academy in Hungary, he taught at his alma mater for four years, was instructor at the leading sports club in Szeged for 20 years, coached Hungary's world championship fencing teams from '53 through '57, taught at the Club di Scherma in Torino, Italy (1957), at the Club Athletic Paulista, San Paulo, Brazil (1958-'61), at the Pannonia Athletic Club in San Francisco since 1962 to the present, and at Mills College in 1963-'64.

If those credentials aren't good enough for you, we suggest you run the Maestro through. But you better try it from long range—say, three or four miles.

WHILE ON the subject of San Francisco State, it's interesting to note that all Gator swimming records have been set since 1961.

Well, that was interesting, wasn't it?

IF NOT, try this one:

Two of State's better gymnasts are San Bruno boys, from Capuchino High.

They're Tom Fester, a junior who specializes in almost everything, and Dave Voris, also a junior, who does well on the parallel bars, side horse and long horse.

He's not bad on a short horse, either, though, upon mounting—especially after work on the long horse—he sometimes misjudges and lands on the horse's ears.

Now you can't say THAT wasn't interesting and informative.

SIX MEMBERS of the recent Sporting News Eastern and Western division offensive and defensive All-Pro teams are from Ohio State: place kicker Lou Groza, offensive tackle Dick Schfrath and linebacker Jim Houston, all of the Browns in the Eastern Conference, and offensive tackle Bob Vogel and guard Jim Parker, both of the Colts, and cornerback Dick LeBeau, of Detroit.

That's an outstanding enough performance in itself for Ohio State, but especially so when not one other college or university in the country placed more than one man in the remaining places on the mythical team.

THE SPORTING NEWS recently ran a story on the former great San Francisco third baseman Willie Kamm, discussing his record $125,000 sale to the Chicago White Sox in 1922, (which saved Charley Graham's Coast League franchise) and the merits of his credentials for Hall of Fame induction.

We never saw Kamm play in his prime, but we'll never forget a baseball school we attended some 20 years ago in which the great glove man was the third base instructor.

Kamm at that time couldn't have been younger than 46 or 47, had a pot belly, and a time glove that looked like a burned out pancake, and wore a uniform whose stockings almost slipped above his knees.

To us he looked like anything but a former great. What is, the late Oscar Vitt started smashing into shots down the line at Willie.

As Willie swooped over that belly and nonchalantly handled shots which made us want to be behind the backstop, he clearly and methodically explained—and demonstrated—the fine points of third base play.

It was one of the most imposing exhibitions of baseball playing we had ever and have ever witnessed, and Kamm never gave it a second thought.

Not only did we become convinced that wardrobe, equipment and style meant nothing when measured against talent, but we also felt certain that Charley Graham had been gypped.

NPL Cage Tournament Opens Play

After experiencing nothing but difficulty outside their own league, North Peninsula League basketball teams will converge on Westmoor High School's spacious gymnasium beginning tomorrow afternoon for the third annual NPL Tournament.

Having compiled a dismal 13-26 record in preseason play, NPL fives will play a total of nine games among their seven members in the tournament with South San Francisco (3-2) the slim favorite.

The Warriors, one of only two clubs with a winning record in the pre-league going, tackle El Camino (4-3) at 6:15 p.m. in the feature game of the first round.

Terra Nova (0-6) plays Oceana (0-3) at 3:15 and Half Moon Bay (1-4) duels dark horse Jefferson (2-3) at 4:30 in the other two first round contests.

Westmoor (0-5), the defending tournament and league champion, has a bye on the first round because of its winning the league title last year.

The rest of the tournament schedule is a bit complicated due to the fact that seven teams will be playing in a tourney geared for eight clubs. The title game is set for 8:30 Saturday night.

Westmoor and one other team will play only two games while all other units will play the usual three tilts.

South San Francisco, with wins over San Mateo, San Rafael and Mission, comes into the affair as the slight choice to take the crown.

Led by 6-6 forward-center Jim Henry and 6-1 forward Greg Jones, the Warriors of Bill Purcell feature a fast-break offense.

El Camino, with Mick Ackley, Dick Williams, and Gordy San-

Loose Ball!

CORKY PHELPS of Westmoor lunges for a loose ball in a Ram practice game with Mills of the Mid-Peninsula League. Although the Westmoor club, the defending North Peninsula League champ, is winless thus far, no one is counting the Daly City five out of contention in its own league. Westmoor and Phelps get their chance to prove their mettle Friday night when they tackle the winner of the El Camino-South San Francisco game in the second round of the NPL tournament. (Norton Pearl Photo) off all hitting in double figures in nearly every game to date, is figured to have the best chance of knocking off its Industrial City neighbor in both the tournament and in league play.

The Colts, who run a more methodical offense and play tighter defense than do the Warriors, utilize the work of the biggest man in the county in center Ed Green to plug the middle and control the boards.

Big Ed, 6-6 and 270 pounds and an all-county grizzer in the fall, is the key to the tournament, the league, and the Colts' title chances.

Jefferson and Westmoor, the two Daly City entries, feature outstanding individuals but lack rebounding muscle and experience to threaten for the crown.

The Indians' Willie Redmond, a 6-2 junior forward, might be the best offensive player in the NPL. He has the high game so far in the NPL with 33 points against Burlingame.

Westmoor's Corky Phelps finds himself minus seven of his mates off last year's Ram team that went 19-3. Phelps is shouldering much of the load at both ends of the court this year for Tony Giammona's club.

Oceana, Half Moon Bay (the newest entry in the league), and Terra Nova have one win between them in 14 games. None figure to cause trouble for the leaders.

None of the games will count in the NPL standings. All of the games will be played at Westmoor.

Actual league play commences on January 12.

BUILDING CAMPAIGN FOR TN

Tigers Face Foggy Cage Year

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on North Peninsula League basketball teams and their prospects for the 1965-66 season.)

By JOHN HORGAN
LIKE occasional Pacific weather, a dense fog of pessimism hangs over the basketball outlook of Terra Nova High School this year.

Tiger Coach Rich Burt, in assessing his team's chances of picking up where his good 1964-65 unit left off, said last week that "there's no doubt about it, we are in a building year."

Last year when the Tigers displayed a good deal of tooth and claw with a 12-9 season mark and a 5-5 NPL log, TN fielded what is felt to be the best club in the short history of the school. This campaign will be another story.

Already the Tigers have lost their first six games in a row and have been inconsistent throughout.

"This inconsistency is characteristic of a young team," said Burt, "and we expect this to happen at this stage of the season."

Guard Mike Deurloo, a 5-10 senior, is the most experienced hand on the varsity this time around and is the lone returning member of last year's team who saw considerable duty.

Deurloo is flanked by either Jim Maule, a 5-7 senior, or Bob Keane, a 5-9 senior. Tom Horner, 5-8, is the fourth guard.

The guard spot, thanks to Deurloo, is the strongest position on the roster.

There is trouble, however, in the front line.

TRYING TO replace the likes of big Rich Schaefer, 6-4, and a unanimous all-league pick at center last year, is a prime order to fill —and off the first six games, center will, indeed, be a problem.

Two juniors, 6-1 Bob Wimmer and 6-3 Mike Ward, are contending for Schaefer's post. Neither is polished but both work hard and learn quickly.

Ward, a football player with good size and aggressiveness, is probably the best rebounder on the team (which needs good board work desperately) but lacks finesse.

Wimmer is only 6-1 but has been playing more and could jell according to Burt.

The forward spots are also a problem due to a marked lack of height.

Mike Kenny, 5-10 and another griddier, and Jim Bresnahan, 5-10, man the forward positions, but their lack of size hurts.

The other two forwards are Rich Pick, 6-0, and Doug DeAragon, 5-11. De-

Aragon is a sophomore while the other three forwards are juniors.

Bresnahan is the brother of second team all-league choice Jack Bresnahan who graduated in June.

Jack Bresnahan, along with Schaefer, Hank Dagenais and Stan Obney were the main cogs on last season's outfit, which threw three king-sized scares into South San Francisco and Westmoor but failed to win against them in four tries.

But Burt can't afford to look back on the past.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

Westlake Bowl

BILL GREER, chairman of the 1965 PAL Tournament, was honored last Sunday night with a special squad in the Examiner Christmas Singles. Many of his friends bowled with Bill in the special squad. Westlake finals for those who qualified will be held here at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Dolly Thielen led the Ladies' 850 Scratch League Monday evening with a 214 game and 585 series.

Our junior 900 team trails the leaders by only three and one-half games as three weeks remain in the first half of the season's competition. The team is currently carrying a 902 team average.

Bob Hood, Westmoor High School senior, bowling in his first year of ABC competition, set a new Westlake high series as he rolled a 761 series while bowling in the Northern California Men's Team Handicap Tournament. Starting with a big 279 first game, he shot a 258 second game and finished with 224. This is the highest sanctioned series shot at Westlake since its opening in November of 1958.

B'NAI B'RITH Bowler of the Week was Mel Steinberg, shooting a 234 game and 556 series.

A big 583 series by Dave Pansini topped the Golden Gate Handicap League for the week. Dave's high game was 206.

Cathy Devlin led the ladies with 183-486 and Gene McCorkhill topped the men with 195-569 in the Southgate Mixed Fives League.

Pauline Tanner took first prize of 4,750 stamps in the Friday afternoon Blue Chip Bonanza. Second place went to Sandy Van Bell while Idle Newell took third spot.

Maxine Chalka with 183-488 led the ladies and Joe McNally topped the men with 229-576 in the Sunday evening Westlake Wedlocks League.

BULLDOGS ARE 10-2

CSM Aided By Ex-NPL Cagers

The College of San Mateo basketball team, having begun its league season last night after posting a good 10-2 non-league schedule, is counting on four ex-North Peninsula League players and a new Daly City resident to boost its title hopes this year.

Jim Mason, Owney Williams, Jerry Donovan, Breck McLaren and John Price are key factors in the surprising rise in the Bulldogs' cage fortunes.

Williams, who attended Woodrow Wilson in San Francisco but now lives in Daly City, is the leading scorer for the Bulldogs. McLaren, a 6-6 forward from El Camino, has been first club all season so far and is regarded by most as the steady front court performer on the team.

Mason, Donovan and Price, all of whom attended Westmoor, have played consistent ball for Coach Jack Avina's team with Mason moving close to first-string status.

CSM, after last night's encounter with tough Merritt College of Oakland in San Mateo, travels to City College of San Francisco Friday night.

Last Thursday, the Bulldogs clipped West Valley of San Jose, 70-68, without the services of Jim Meyers. Both were out of the lineup with injuries but were expected to be back in time for last night's tussle.

CSM, along with Merritt and CCSF and Contra Costa and Foothill, is expected to make a run at the Golden Gate Conference crown held by CCSF.

San Jose City College, another power, is felt to have the makings of a possible title-winner.

Contra Costa is the defending champ.

Three D.C. Teen Groups Plan Weekend Activities

Three of six junior teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department will start off the new year with activities this weekend.

Events include a sports night, roller-skating, and a trip to Angel Island State Park.

The Casualiers Junior Teens will meet at Colma Intermediate School for a sports night from 7 to 9 p.m., Friday.

The evening's activities will include volleyball, stunt contests, races, and a dance. Cost of this event is 25 cents for club members and 40 cents for guests.

The Imperials will leave the War Memorial Community Center at 7:30 Friday evening for roller-skating at Skateland-at-the-Beach.

Members of the Imperials will be charged $1 and their guests will pay $1.25. The price includes admission, skate rental and insurance.

Those attending this activity are asked to be at the War Memorial by 7 p.m.

The Telstars will be off to Angel Island State Park Sunday. The day's outing will include a boat ride to the island and back, picnicking, hiking, softball, and some specialty contests.

Members and their guests will leave Westmoor Park at 9 a.m. Cost is $1.75 for members, $2 for guests.

Dimes Week Proclaimed

Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli has declared the month of January to be March of Dimes Month.

In his proclamation last week, the mayor stated that he "strongly urges all of our people to contribute generously to this important fight against birth defects."

He went on to comment further that "the full resources of an enlightened public must be mustered to meet this increasingly urgent problem."

Church Events

Hillside Church Changes Time of Morning Worship

A major change in the morning worship time to 9:45 a.m. has been announced by Pastor R. E. Linamen of the Hillside Church of God in South San Francisco.

The earlier worship schedule went into effect January 1 with an emphasis being placed on participation by Sunday School classes in their services.

The change was brought about to integrate the study and worship program of the church, and to take advantage of the worship hour as a time to prepare for the study program that follows in the Sunday school, said Pastor Linamen.

A new educational unit is to be completed soon and the church plans a major program of Christian education and outreach.

In a recent training conference, led by educator John Petrovitz, 20 teachers were trained and prepared in anticipation of this new program.

At the annual business meeting of the Hillside Church Council, Rev. Elroy Weikel was introduced as a full-time associate minister.

Along with his wife, Harriet, he has become recognized as a community leader among youth and at the present time he is directing the extensive building program in which the church is engaged.

St. Veronica Unit to Meet

The Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco will be the location for the Saint Veronica's Holy Name Society Annual Breakfast Sunday.

The Society will attend an 8 a.m. mass and holy communion in Saint Veronica's Church as a group. A short installation ceremony for new members will be held later.

The past presidents of the Society will be honored at this breakfast, which will begin at 10 a.m.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

The Rev. A. David Donnelly, pastor of Westside Baptist Church, will speak on a topic taken from the Old Testament book of Malachi at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the church.

The topic will be: "Life Versus Covenant." Mrs. Karen Newberg of San Francisco will be a guest soloist.

At the church's mid-week Prayer and Bible Study Hour at 7:45 p.m. today, Reverend Donnelly will lead a study of Eschatology. The meeting will be in the church parsonage at 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Cigarettes Start Fires

Careless smoking was blamed for fires that caused an estimated total damage of $275 in two Daly City residences early today and last night.

A cigarette ignited a mattress in an apartment at 15 Poncetia drive about 6:30 a.m. today. Smoke and water damage was estimated at $200. Daly City firemen identified the occupant only as a K. McCarty.

A cigarette dropped into an armchair in the residence of John Tobin at 1031 Eighty-seventh Street about 10:45 last night caused $75 damage, firemen said.

Christian Youth Schedule Rally

"1966—A Year of Opportunity," will be the theme of the Saturday Youth for Christ rally to be held at the War Memorial auditorium in downtown San Francisco.

The new year of opportunity will begin with keen competition between the newly-formed college-age group known as the Pi Theta Epsilon Club and one of the local top-attendance campus life clubs.

Returning from the annual mid-winter convention of Youth for Christ International to be held in the city of Seattle the first week of January will be the local YFC director, Warren Ninness, and his wife.

D.C. Children Swallow Pills

Three Daly City youngsters were taken to Mary's Help Hospital yesterday afternoon for stomach lavages after they had swallowed an undetermined quantity of diuretic pills, police reported. One of the children was admitted for observation.

The children are Laurie, 3, and Richie Duff, 2, and Gary Homer, 17 months, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Duff of 134 Camellia Drive. The pills had been in a bottle on top of a shelf, it was reported.

Richie was admitted for observation, hospital authorities said.

D.C. Man Will Hold Key Post

William Thompson, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been appointed to an organizational post for the three-day circuit assembly of Witnesses at the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco January 21-23.

Principal positions also will be held by George Quiroz of Daly City and Edward Sheehan, David Churchy and Ted Harmantas of Pacifica.

HAND BURNED
Four-year-old Wayne Higgins of 144 Santa Cruz Avenue, Daly City, was treated at Mary's Help Hospital last week for an electrical burn on his hand, Daly City police reported.

Heavy Thoughts For New Year

WHEN THE year of 1966 began last Saturday the whole of California and, locally of more significance, the Bay Area and San Mateo County was halfway through the most fantastic decade of growth and development in their history. There are no real signs that this flood tide of growth and development will halt. On the contrary, plans already made show that it will rise higher and higher.

What the new decade of the 1970's will bring is beyond knowledge, but it is already certain that by the time this new decade arrives the changes wrought by the 1960's will have materially changed the character of the area in which we live.

Many changes have already come. Many more are readily apparent. They are changes across the entire spectrum of our economy, ranging through commerce, industry, transport, communications, technology, distribution, construction, finance and the population itself.

WHATEVER our attitudes may have been in the past toward changes in the politico-governmental organization of our cities, counties, and the Bay Area as a whole, we may find ourselves inexorably moved toward politico-governmental changes in the future. For, if a balance of change is not achieved, we are in danger of finding ourselves operating with a horse and buggy politico-governmental organization that is unable to cope with the needs and problems of a jet-speed, space-oriented era.

In the metropolitan, perhaps megapolitan, epoch we are entering, we will need politico-governmental organization capable of serving efficiently in a civic environment in which artificial boundaries are becoming obsolete and natural boundaries, like the bay, are no longer barriers.

Under such conditions, we will not be able to afford the constantly proliferating taxes and the costly duplications of essential services and administration that, even now, hang heavily upon us.

The two questions that thrust themselves on us with respect to this inevitable coming change are: Where do we begin and how do we begin?

Both questions will take a lot of answering and both are likely to arouse controversy that will not be easily settled.

But the time has come to start thinking about them and where they will lead us.

THE POST does not pretend to have the answers, but it can offer a suggestion worth pondering. The place to begin may very well be our own San Mateo County. The way to begin can be independent study of what might be gained by a consolidation of municipal services in our county, although not necessarily under the county government as at present constituted.

In the larger picture, the politico-governmental changes that must come, if we are to have government to match an area-wide need, will go beyond San Mateo County. Such changes will only come after what may be a power struggle over representation in whatever organization ultimately evolves.

If San Mateo County fails to achieve some degree of unity, it will be weak in relation to unified governments that now exist in the Bay Area and, if the county is to have the respect and representation it deserves in any super-government that evolves, it must start now to present a united, if not unified, front.

These are heavy thoughts for the New Year, but they cannot be evaded.

A Family On Skates

Barbara Bladen

SKATING IS a family affair for Alice Quessy, featured soloist with the "Holiday on Ice" that opened Christmas Day at Winterland. Her 7-year-old son Ronnie LeMac is in the show and her husband Joe is stage manager.

Not to be confused with Ice Follies, where Alice began, the 21-year-old show is coming west for the first time. Their headquarters is Madison Square Garden in New York. With seven companies covering Europe, South and North America, Canada and two in the Far East, the "Holiday on Ice" name spells glamour and excitement all over the world.

Alice was with the San Francisco-based Shipstad and Johnson company for four years before moving east where she joined the Roxy Theatre show. The now demolished legitimate theatre at that time had a portable rink, which featured four ice show performances a day, between movies.

EACH PROFESSION has its hazards and Alice encountered the most serious one a skater can have. She broke her ankle and was on crutches for a year. She rehabilitated herself by teaching skating at Lynn, Mass., and in 1957 joined Ice Capades, another major American touring company.

"I was thrilled to perform in Moscow when I joined 'Holiday on Ice.' We were the first American ice show behind the Iron Curtain. It may seem like carrying coals to Newcastle but the Russians skate different than we do. Their technique is so rigid. They admitted they learned a lot from us, liked our free movement."

"Business was so good, we were held over eight weeks and had to cancel the Leningrad engagement. The Russian audiences had never seen majorettes. I taught 12 youngsters baton twirling while we were there," she said.

THERE IS STIFF competition between ice shows that almost approaches bitterness, explained Bob Jones, public relations director for the company. The bid for playing dates in major cities is their biggest concern. The "Holiday" show tours 46 weeks out of the year. The "Ice Follies" and "Ice Capades" also vie for available rinks and stadiums.

Immanuel Baptist Church

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH at 299 Country Club Drive in South San Francisco was founded seven years ago by the Rev. Lloyd Burdette. First services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cleveriger of 7 Beverley Court, South San Francisco. The present building was completed three years ago this month. The Rev. Alfred Engelmann is the present pastor. He reports that to date, he has baptized for nine Sundays in a row. There are about 160 members in the congregation.

The FTC's Case Against Geritol

Lorene Beasley

DO YOU HAVE that let-down feeling after the fast pace of the holidays? How about taking Geritol? There have been over 60 million bottles of Geritol sold since the product appeared on the market 13 years ago.

Recently, the Federal Trade Commission ordered the J. B. Williams Company Incorporated and its advertising division, Parkson Advertising Agency, to stop misrepresentative advertising of Geritol in both its forms, liquid and tablet.

Both companies plan to appeal the commission's order, denying the allegations of the complaint and asking for its dismissal.

The companies claim that Geritol has made a substantial contribution to the cause of good nutrition; that it has enabled persons to lead more active and happy lives and that it continues to serve a public need for a readily available, safe and effective tonic for the treatment and relief of the systems of vitamin and iron deficiency anemia.

THE FEDERAL Trade Commission ruled that the Geritol television commercials and newspaper advertisements falsely represent that all cases of tiredness, loss of strength, run-down feeling, nervousness and irritability indicated a deficiency of iron and that common, effective remedy for these symptoms is Geritol.

The Federal Trade Commission further held that the advertising is misleading because it does not reveal that in the great majority of cases of tiredness the symptoms are not caused by such a deficiency and that in these cases Geritol will be of no benefit except in the small minority of persons whose tiredness symptoms are caused by a deficiency of iron.

LESS THAN ten per cent of the entire population "have iron deficiency and less than one per cent are deficient in vitamins." There are numerous causes for tiredness other than iron deficiency.

The ruling found that the evidence does not sustain the "masking" charge in the complaint—namely, that Geritol advertisements also are misleading in a material respect because "they fail to reveal the material fact . . . that in the woman beyond the usual child-bearing age and the man of any age, an established or existing deficiency of iron or iron deficiency anemia is almost invariably due to bleeding from some serious disease or disorder and in the absence of adequate treatment of the underlying cause of the bleeding, the use of the preparations may mask the signs and symptoms and thereby permit the progression of such disease or disorder."

FURTHER rulings by the Commission were that iron deficiency or iron deficiency anemia cannot and should not be self-diagnosed or be determined without a medical test conducted by a doctor; the vitamins contained in Geritol do not contribute to its effectiveness in treating or relieving an existing deficiency of iron or iron deficiency anemia, and that Geritol will not increase the strength or energy of every part of the body within 24 hours.

Another company marketing a vitamin-mineral preparation has been prohibited from making various representations for its product, V-Tabs, by the Federal Trade Commission.

The complaint charges that the advertising of Jay Norris Company, trading as Norris Nutritionals, misrepresents V-Tabs as being beneficial in treating and relieving lack of pep, energy and strength, loss of vitality and loss of a sense of well-being.

In reality, the Commission says that V-Tabs will not be of benefit in the treatment or relief of these symptoms, except in a small minority of cases due to a deficiency of Vitamin B-1, Vitamin B-2, Vitamin C or Niacinamide.

All of the remaining ingredients in this preparation are of no benefit in the treatment or relief of the symptoms.

THE FTC ORDER further forbids such advertising claims in the future unless the advertising affirmatively discloses these limitations and the fact that the preparation will not benefit the great majority of persons with the said symptoms.

The FTC further alleges the advertising falsely represents that V-Tabs (1) immediately supplies new energy to the human body and continues to provide it for 24 hours (2) is a new medical and scientific discovery and (3) will enable a person to appear and feel younger.

The Crow Was Almost Eaten

Don Miller

EAST IS EAST and West is West (and all that) and it's just as well the two ne'er meet, as Mr. Kipling insists, for this way the game of comparing the two is allowed to go on, ad infinitum.

All of you former Easterners who left back yonder for the more amenable California climate can appreciate these comparisons, which take on a particularly sharp edge at this time of year.

Which is to say that when winter huffs in, the climatic difference between here and back there is considerably pronounced, a situation easily confirmed by scanning the national temperature listings or listening to the reports of blizzards sweeping down from Canada.

"This is the usual state of affairs about now and when we returned to hometown Buffalo for a Christmas visit a couple of weeks ago, we had expected to be able to deliver the customary observation about how cold it was in Buffalo and "why don't you come out to California where it's warm and the sun shines all the time?" (Well, almost all the time.)

ANYWAYS, this time we got outflanked. But good! Not only by San Francisco weather but by Buffalo weather as well. For the mercury in Buffalo—perish the thought—hovered in the high fifties Christmas Eve while across the continent a neat double-cross was being performed and the thermometer sank steadily into the forties.

All of which prompted some hard-to-take smug expressions on the part of gleeful relatives and friends in Buffalo as they realized that they could neatly demolish that chamber of commerce routine about sunshine and warmth that had rolled in annually from the Far West.

Fortunately, just before we had resigned ourselves to digging into a large serving of crow, things meteorological in Buffalo did a remarkable, face-saving about face.

It was sort of like Horatio at the bridge and just like that bit of derring-do, the weatherman performed in stellar fashion at the weathervane.

For as Buffalo's climate is so wont to do, the mercury went into a tailspin early Christmas Day, the overnight rain became sleet, slush and finally snow and Buffalo came up with (albeit at the 11th hour) the sort of Christmas Bing Crosby sings about and Grandma Moses once painted.

The snow as expected, forthwith vanquished all those smug family grins and put this East-West weather business back on the old forecast from which it had strayed.

THE TRIP to the hometown diggings, by the way, involved the usual sight-seeing trips to old haunts and favorite locales and as on prior occasions, the changes observed were sometimes startling, sometimes sad to see.

'The Destruction Of California'

Samuel Chandler

FROM ALL sides the word comes loud and clear. Californians are committing future generations to a world deprived of the necessities of life—"to a managed world where nature is to be observed only in plots, like specimen wild creatures in zoos."

The warning is carried into 1966 by the authors of two recent books that claim our attention. One of these is "The Destruction of California" by Raymond E. Dasmann, chairman of the Division of Natural Resources at Humboldt State College.

In the first chapter he writes of San Francisco: "Try as I may, I cannot feel that things are new better. It is no nostalgia for a past youth that prompts this feeling. I much prefer the life that I live today to anything that I had 20 years earlier. Instead it is a solid objection to physical change that has taken place, and more than that, to a spiritual rot that seems to pervade much of the city."

After this beginning Professor Dasmann discusses his thesis in eleven chapters, each worth reading, each dealing with a natural resource that is being destroyed by selfish interest and by the Californian whose attitude is "I could care less."

CHAPTER ONE is entitled, "A Not So Golden State." Chapters three through nine discuss the destruction of timber, water supplies, the air, recreational areas and agricultural areas. Each tells in readable prose the history of the destruction.

Each contains a discussion of the forces of persuasion now in motion that should be recognized and accelerated.

In the closing chapter, Prof. Dasmann, demonstrates that he is not a prophet of

Perhaps the saddest sight that greeted us was an old friend that had decided to call it quits. The "friend" is a cruise ship that used to steam merrily between Buffalo and the amusement park-beach resort of Crystal Beach on the shores of Lake Erie in Ontario, Canada.

In those days, the ship was known as the Canadiana and so popular were her nautical charms that she could hardly keep up with the tide of fun-seekers who streamed over her gangway on a warm, (yes, it does get warm in Buffalo) summer day.

In the Canadiana's heyday, the ship boasted two banks of slot machines, port and starboard, on the lower deck. The slots began devouring change as soon as the ship reached what was loosely referred to as "international waters" just outside of Buffalo.

Although we were too young to play the slots then, the highlight of each trip was watching those who did.

ANOTHER MEMORABLE facet of traveling aboard the Canadiana was the suspense that always accompanied a return voyage made in a rising wind and rough water.

It wasn't so much the open-water voyage that provided the intrigue as it was the docking maneuver that had to be undertaken once the ship reached Buffalo.

The Canadiana's berth was on the south side of the Buffalo River; less than a mile from where the river enters Lake Erie. Along some of its stretches, the river is considered a navigational nightmare for it can be compared to a pretzel gone wild—it has that many twists.

Mooring the ship required the captain to deftly turn his vessel around in a three-ship-length-wide space and to determine where the ship would not be adversely affected by the wind.

For in a good Lake Erie howler, the Canadiana rarely made it to its pier on the first pass because of the sideways-pushing effect of the wind. And, of course, this failure was inevitably accompanied by animated discussion by the ship's armchair captains, who were numerous.

BUT AS WE started to say before the reminiscing, all that was the Canadiana has passed now for the old gal is ready for the Great Ship Graveyard.

Today, she can be seen slumped against a pier on Buffalo's Niagara River waterfront, her outside chipped and faded and decidedly unseaworthy and her inside stripped of fittings, furnishings and most anything of nostalgic value.

The death of a ship, particularly a vessel that echoed the laughter and gaiety of generations, to us is always a sad affair.

In this case it was like saying goodbye to an old friend.

doom but one who asks, "Is it too much to ask people to be concerned with the land in which they live. It is possible," he answers, "to stop, here in the West, the destruction of the land that is California. It is not only possible; it is essential to do so . . ."

THIS OPTIMISM is found in "John Muir and the Sierra Club" by Holway R. Jones. In unforgettable sentences punctuated with pictures and maps, the story of the battle to save Yosemite is narrated. Concurrent with it is the tragic history of Hetch Hetchy.

While one story tells of success, the other is a record of failure, of forgotten promises, of apathy on the part of the people of California and of selfishness by the people of San Francisco.

Neither record is complete. As late as 1963, the secretary of the interior had to order measures to protect Yosemite from such enemies as insects that destroy the trees and tourists who create fires. For this he and his department were soundly renounced.

SOME DETRACTORS paraded under the banners of conservation. "Protection includes insects as much as other animals," they said, and "let nature take its course." Some of the loudest objections came from people who fear the "heavy hand of management applied to wilderness and park areas."

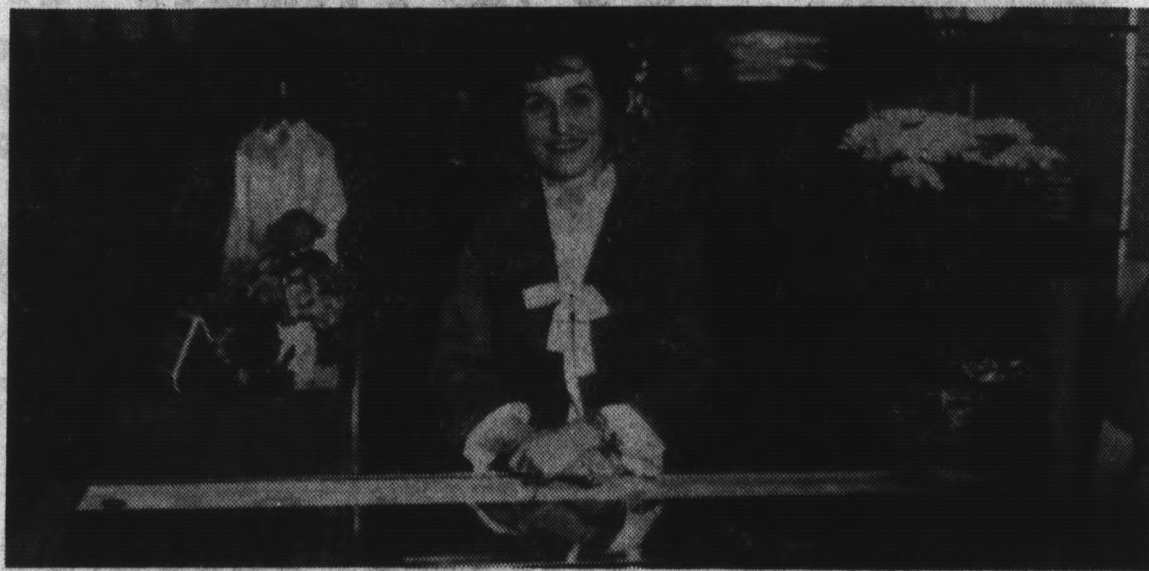

These cries differ greatly from the opinions of John Muir who thought it not wrong to call upon the Army to protect the inheritance of generations of unborn Californians.

asked by hundreds of thousands of American mothers each year: "Why did it happen to my baby?"

"Unfortunately," declared Hupf, "the scientists are unable to give a specific answer except in a few cases. They know how to detect and control certain body chemistry defects which cause severe mental retardation. They also know that many expectant mothers who contact German measles—as in the massive 1963-64 epidemic—will give birth to defective babies. Most of these children can benefit from medical treatment."

"But until science learns more about the hundreds of birth defects which occur in some 50,000 American babies each year, the best help we can give these mothers is a gift to the March of Dimes," the campaign leader said.

He noted that the March of Dimes is the largest single national source of private support for research and care in birth defects. Included in this program are more than 50 March of Dimes-financed treatment centers where teams of medical experts are developing better methods treating birth defects victims.

"Your response to the March of Dimes mail appeal," added George Hollister, chairman of the 1966 Mailers' Division, "can bring closer the day when far fewer mothers will have to ask that tragic question, 'Why?'"

Trio Hurt In Police Chase In N. County

A Daly City youth and two female companions were reported in good condition Monday morning by officials at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City after the trio was admitted with head injuries suffered Thursday night when the sports car in which they were riding went out of control while trying to avoid pursuing police in Daly City and Brisbane.

Jerry Reyes, 17, of 219 Polaris Way, the driver, reported to Daly City police that he was "frightened" when Officer Dennis Sheehy gave chase on Geneva Avenue.

Sheehy reported that Reyes accelerated to "over 40" in a 25 mile per hour zone and that Reyes then accelerated to a high rate of speed in the slow lane and headed for Brisbane.

Officer Francis Scalessi of the Brisbane police reported that Reyes' car went out of control when Reyes tried to pass slow-moving autos and struck a telephone pole.

Damage to the youth's car was extensive, police said.

Hewitt Bows Out

It's Rockaway Beach Avenue now instead of Hewitt Avenue in Pacifica.

The change in Hewitt's name was approved by the Pacifica Council after a hearing at which no protests were voiced.

The new name had been requested by the Rockaway Beach Progressive Club.

Another request to change Reinda del Mar to Vallemar Avenue was turned down after several residents protested.

GEORGE C. BRENNER

He Was D.C.'s Music Master

(Henry C. Niebolt of 70 Baldwin Avenue in Daly City was a close friend of George E. Brenner, director of the Daly City Band from 1928 to 1964. Niebolt writes about his memories of Brenner who died December 6, 1965.)

By HENRY C. NIEBOLT

UPON ENTERING Mission High School in 1945, I naturally decided to enroll in the high school band, having spent three years on tuba at James Lick Junior High School in San Francisco. I wondered how I could get extra experience. One day I found my answer.

A fellow musician told me of a performing group located in Daly City which specialized in playing advanced, professional music we never saw in school. It would mean a long streetcar ride every Tuesday night. Would I be interested? I answered in the affirmative, eagerly anticipating this new experience.

The next Tuesday night I took a streetcar out to Oliver Street in Daly City with my tuba. I had to carry the thing up the hill about four blocks in all. The band rehearsed in an old firehouse on Edgmar Street. George Brenner, the leader, welcomed me to the group and made me feel at home even though I came from San Francisco.

GEORGE had a tremendous enthusiasm to work with young musicians. Much of the time at first I had difficulty in playing the music but George encouraged me to keep practicing, which I did. He had other young musicians in the group besides myself whom he treated similarly.

I can remember our memorable trip to the Napa County Fair in 1946. This band was taken up by bus and performed in public on a Saturday evening.

In 1947, George and the band won many awards in band competitions throughout Northern California. Mrs. Brenner has many prize cups in remembrance of this big year in our band's history.

DURING ALL these years, the Daly City Band was an amateur band—with all musicians playing for fun only.

Around 1955, George found it advisable to unionize the group which by this time consisted of adults for the most part.

One of the sad problems of band directors then as it is now is to find young musicians willing to give up their time on a non-payment basis. Since a tremendous shortage of amateur talent existed in Daly City at that time, Brenner had to unionize or else do away with the band.

The memory of George E. Brenner will linger on for many years among musicians of the entire Bay Area. Countless men and women made their musical start with Brenner.

We're grateful to him for his encouragement and enthusiasm for good band music, his cheerful pat on the back and his sincere friendship.

Daly City has lost a spirited and devoted citizen.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

THIS SATURDAY evening is the time set for the S. S. Brotherhood Way Center's first "members-only" dance and the continuing list of attractions would seem to make success inevitable.

According to Mrs. Murray Freedman, publicity chairman of the nautical gathering, the list of special features now includes a dance demonstration by Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Dowd. The Dowds have frequently provided dance exhibitions on cruise ships sailing to the South Pacific and they will be re-creating their program as well as the special "cruise mood" for the Saturday gathering. Their appearance has been arranged for by Mrs. Oscar Rushakoff, program chairman.

Mrs. George Dyer has been making a Herculean effort to convert the large hall into a bit of King Neptune's realm for the evening, and she has succeeded in obtaining a boat, complete with Jilly Roger, to grace one end of the room.

Other bits of nautical paraphernalia, including a simulated gang plank, anchors, colorful travel posters, gay balloons, signal flags and netting, will be artfully scattered about to keep everyone in tune with the maritime theme.

Mrs. Jack Mihalovici, the "captain" or chairman of the event has announced that special excitement will be added by the awarding of prizes during the evening.

Assisting Mrs. Mihalovici are Mrs. Sam B. Cohen, Mrs. Nathan Siegel, Mrs. Ernest Siegel, Mrs. Jack Gabriel, Mrs. Robert Borovoy, Mrs. Edwin Epstein, Mrs. Melvin Lichtman, Mrs. Kenneth Lorber, Mrs. David Terris, Freda Altman and Mrs. Sol Cohen. Also assisting will be Mrs. David Schwimmer, Mrs. Howard Shapiro, Mrs. Robert Shimmoff, Mrs. Stanley Wolfsohn and Mrs. Milton Bronstein.

Mrs. Borovoy, who heads the refreshment committee, reports that the desserts to be served during the evening will be prepared from the personal recipe files of members and are all exceedingly toothsome creations.

Members may make reservations for the evening by calling the center, 334-7474, or Mrs. Bardoff, 681-4564 or Mrs. Bronstein, 992-1278.

THE HOLY ANGELS Women's Guild will resume its monthly meeting schedule this evening when the membership will assemble at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. Mrs. Doris Seitz is the presiding officer.

MEMBERS OF the new Sigma Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority held their annual holiday dinner dance at the Sheridan Thunderbolt recently, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Marty Sugrue.

Sisters gathered in the Westlake home of Mrs. Rita Chase for a pre-festivities cocktail party and to reveal who last year's secret sisters were.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held in the San Francisco home of Mrs. Peggy Stein. Mrs. Betty Scanlong and Mrs. Inez Thomas will be in charge of the program on natural science.

LIKE DONUTS? Here is a fine opportunity to purchase one dozen of Hunt's marvelous cake donuts during the Our Lady of Mercy donut sale.

Mrs. Frank Kelechava, donut sale chairman, is now taking advance orders for the tasty tidbits which will be sold by the women of the parish on January 16.

According to Mrs. Kathryn Glebow, chairman of publicity for the Westlake Catholic Women, Frank Hunt will donate the proceeds of all donut and snack sales in his donut shop, 235 Southgate, for the event. Volunteers from the parish will be on hand to man the counters and offer a cheery greeting to shoppers between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m.

HOME FROM a holiday visit with their son Bill and his wife, Ruth, and their children, Kathleen, Michael and Bill, are Mr. and Mrs. Haynes Finch of Westlake.

The Finches, who entertained their son and his family and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dickinson and their children, Douglas and Dorothy Ann, for Thanksgiving enjoyed a week with their son in Sonora before Christmas and wound up their holiday visiting a few days in the Dickinson family in Moraga in Rheem Valley.

THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY, Daly City unit, held a holiday party gathering in the home of Mrs. Max Wahl on Monday to introduce new and prospective members to the membership and the local program.

Anyone interested in joining this group or persons seeking more information about the program of the American Cancer Society is urged to call Mrs. Wahl, at PL 5-5495.

WORKING HARD to prepare for the Friends of the Library meeting with Dr. Earl S. Herald, scheduled for January 20, is Mrs. Vinton S. Stratton.

Mrs. Stratton had accepted the chairmanship of the meeting prior to the advent of plans for a Viaje del Sol Cruise by she and her husband. The cruise ship Princess will leave Long Beach Harbor on January 14 for two weeks at sea and in Puerto Vallarta, Manzanillo, Acapulco and Magatlan.

The winter vacation has meant Mrs. Stratton has been very busy organizing things in advance with the help of committeewomen Mrs. Samuel J. Simon, Herbert Z. Weibel, Mrs. Winsor Josselyn and Mrs. Harold Fox.

THE FIFTY-PLUS CLUB of Pacifica will launch its new monthly luncheon meeting and card party program next Tuesday at 12:30 p.m.

Members will bring sandwiches, coffee is furnished, and whist, bridge, canasta or bingo will follow the luncheon.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the group, there is still a need for playing cards and card tables. Members are asked to bring inexpensive gifts, to be used as prizes, and to invite their card playing friends for an afternoon of fun and relaxation.

SPENDING A LAST CHRISTMAS with his family in Sacramento, prior to his departure to begin his Air Force enlistment, was Fairmont's Hal Stites.

Young Stites is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stites, long time localites, and he has been an employee of the Westlake Music Center for many years.

Westlake Catholic Women Will Meet

Monday, the regular monthly meeting of Westlake Catholic women will be held following 8 p.m. devotions to Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

Dr. Herald Will Speak To Friends of Library

Dr. Earl S. Herald, scientist and author, will be the featured speaker Thursday, January 20 at 8 p.m. at the Westlake Library, for the annual meeting of the Friends of the Daly City Library.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Herald speak on "The Problems of Getting Biological Characters into Literature."

Dr. Herald received his appointment as superintendent and curator of Steinhart Aquarium at the California Academy of Sciences in 1948, at which time he was engaged in tuna research in the Philippines, Indonesia, and Borneo under the State Department Rehabilitation program.

Prior to this work, he served as ichthyologist responsible for the reef fish investigations during the Bikini atom bomb tests.

During the war his assignment in the armed forces was in the field of DDT and other insecticide research, carried on at the Air Force Proving Ground Command in Florida and in the Pacific.

Dr. Herald writes widely in his special field — ichthyology, and has recently published a volume by Doubleday, "Living Fishes of the World," which has been translated and published in eight foreign languages.

Currently he is preparing for publication material on the pipefishes and also a field guide on the fishes of the Pacific Coast.

He also serves as a consultant in aquatic biology for the National Science Foundation, and is on the planning committee for the new National Fisheries Center and Aquarium, to be built in Washington, D.C.

Describing himself as an

academic hybrid, Dr. Herald received his training in a series of California educational institutions, beginning with Los Angeles City College, followed by a BA from UCLA, an MA from UC Berkeley, and a Ph.D. from Stanford.

Married and the father of three children (all of whom show interest in zoological matters), the Herald "family" in Daly City consists of a pet hamster of eight years residence, assorted fish, snakes, birds and amphibians.

Dr. Herald's enthusiasm for the recently rebuilt Steinhart Aquarium is limitless.

With annual visitor attendance of three and a half million from all over the world, much of Dr. Herald's time is spent planning and supervising the many exhibits.

Steinhart boasts of the greatest variety of species on display of any aquarium made possible by eight different water systems which permit duplication of environments anywhere on the globe.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

IT SEEMS to me that I've done enough fancy, rich and expensive cooking in the last month to last me for a lifetime. That's the way I feel today. But next week someone may give me a recipe that's fancy, rich and expensive and once more I'll be off and running. Or should I say "On and Cooking?"

While the simple and easy cooking mood is on me, I'll pass on some very good examples of plain food that I found most delicious. The first recipe is good to eat and falls into the plain, easy and simple cooking category.

GREEN LIMAS CON CARNE

- 1 pound ground round
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 cups cooked green lima beans
- Salt and pepper

Brown the meat in a little fat in a heavy skillet. Add the chopped onion and the tomatoes, and cook slowly until the onion is tender. Add the cooked lima beans and heat for ten minutes longer. Season to taste. This serves four to six, depending on appetites.

Along with this dish, I would recommend garlic bread, a tossed salad and some simple dessert such as fresh fruit or a plain gelatin and cookies.

BY NOW you have probably recovered completely from baked turkey, creamed turkey, turkey soup and cold sliced turkey. While turkey is quite a treat, it does seem to go on and on and on, doesn't it?

This next recipe does not use turkey (hooray), is easy to make and the results are delicious.

SWEET AND SOUR CHOPS

- 6 pork chops
- 2 Tablespoons cooking oil
- 1 onion, sliced (large or small, depending on your taste in onions)
- 1 cup tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- Salt and pepper
- 5 cups coarsely cut cabbage

Trim excess fat from chops. Brown the chops in oil in a large frying pan. Combine sliced onion, tomato juice, soy sauce, sugar, and vinegar. Salt and pepper to taste. Pour over the chops and cover tightly. Bring to a good steam, then lower and simmer for about thirty minutes or until chops are tender.

Next, plop the cabbage on top, cover and cook from 10 to 20 minutes, depending on how you like your cabbage. Ten minutes makes a very crisp dish and the longer you cook, naturally the softer the cabbage.

Remove the chops and toss the cabbage in the sauce and serve. This will serve six, unless yours is a two-pork-chop-each family.

DO ANY OF you good cooks have a recipe for a cake using carrots as the main ingredient? A neighbor called me about a month ago and asked for this recipe and then a card came in the mail asking for the same recipe. I recall having read the recipe but I didn't make it and therefore I don't have the recipe on file.

Also, a lady who lives on Willits Street in Daly City is looking for a recipe for a chocolate layer cake that uses unseasoned mashed potatoes as an ingredient.

If you have these recipes, will you please send them to me? The address is: The Post-Times, 30 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

In addition there will be an hour-long program, starting at 1 p.m., of YWCA talent.

S.F. Symphony To Mark Debut Of A Young Pianist

The orchestra, under the baton of its distinguished conductor and musical director, Josef Krips, will conclude the programs with Strauss' Death and Transfiguration.

Students To Visit Israel

As part of their course, Temple Judea's 11 high school students have undertaken to send two of their classmates to Israel this summer.

A total of $1,000 must be raised by June. With this money and a matching sum provided by their parents, the two students will be able to spend ten weeks in Israel.

The ten weeks will include working on a kibbutz, visiting Israelis, seeing the historical sites, and learning Israeli songs, dances, and folklore. One of the major objectives of this curriculum is to have some of its students visit the birthplace of their religion and culture.

In order to acquire the necessary $1,000, the students have engaged in fund-raising programs. They have washed cars and helped a business firm dispatch its Christmas mail.

In these and other ventures, the group has collected over $200.

In January the high school group will begin its candy sale.

N. County Growth Prompts Meeting Of Women's Unit

A baby sitter will be provided two doors away for a minimum fee at the home of Mrs. Raymond Donohue at 2700 Merion Drive.

The purpose of the meeting is to determine the needs of a separate League in the North County or a separate unit of the San Mateo League.

Hyatt House Group Will Greyhound To Stateline

A PULCHRITUDINOUS WAVE of 400 lovely ladies will splash over South Shore, Lake Tahoe, on the week end of January 14 according to Ed Sullivan, general manager of the Burlingame Hyatt House. The charming gals who are members of HERS, the Hyatt Executive Reservation Secretaries, will be on a special SEVEN ELEVEN FUN TRIP. MISS JO GREEN, the petite, indefatigable Hyatt Corporation sales gal and originator and den mother of the unique and nationally acclaimed HERS group, will hostess the junket. . . CARL and PEGGY SPANN have sold their interest in Los Gatos' popular LA HACIENDA INN, effective January 1. The Spans intend to take a well-deserved rest before taking another business venture. Before leaving, they wish to thank all their many patrons in helping to make their stay at La Hacienda Inn a happy and successful one. . . Three new topless dancers have joined the gorgeous girl crew onstage at the GALAXIE—ALYS TAYLOR, SUNNY SHARP, and DEDE HOLIDAY. TOP-LESS TERI is the star.

You'll enjoy the musical talents of MARGE, who entertains at the piano every Wednesday through Saturday evening. . . When Peninsula businessmen recently took over the CARAVAN INN of Mountain View, they hired ace hotelman FRANK DENNISON. Within a few months, he has set people buzzing with his exciting innovations—like sophisticated dancing every afternoon at 5:30, the new Jug of Wine restaurant, and "all you desire" dining in the Camel Room. Pretty waitresses don't hurt matters, either. Will success spoil the Caravan Inn? Not if we know dapper Frank Dennison. . .

THE LA MESA is attracting the romantic set who love to dance. TOM MORGAN and WALT RAITER's pop club features the 3 BEES and A HONEY for dancing every Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. . . Golden Casino Comedy Act Rare Combination AUDIENCES IN THE GOLDEN CASINO in Reno are really howling with laughter every night in the Golden's Mardi Gras Theater-Restaurant, as the famous Welsh comedian, TAF Arnold, goes into his side-splitting act. Taf Arnold is the rare combination of stand-up comedian, musician and singer, whose Will Rogers-like humor, delivered with a broad Welsh accent, breaks up audiences wherever he performs. Taf Arnold is the new headline specialty act in BARRY ASHTON'S "FEMMES INTERNATIONAL" which is now going into its Second Edition at the Golden Casino. It features the gorgeous ASHTON GIRLS, DICK RICE and his orchestra and a cast of 35.

Barry Ashton

THE WORLD'S FIRST LADY OF SONG is back in San Francisco! The great ELLA FITZGERALD opened Tuesday, December 28, in the FAIRMONT'S VENETIAN ROOM. The first hotel in America to present Ella, she calls the Fairmont "her home away from home"—all San Francisco is her favorite city. All the glowing adjectives have been used on this wonderfully modest, beautifully talented woman, but incomparable is the word she owns, for she has held first place in poll after poll for many years. Starting with her winning in an amateur contest, Ella began as a teen-age singer for Chick Webb, and in 1938 skyrocketed to "A" prominence when she wrote and recorded "A-Tisket, A-Tasket." After Chick's sudden death, Ella took over the band herself. The rest is musical history, for no singer has held top spot as firmly as Ella.

Ben Blue

SUCCESSFULLY BRIDGING THE GAP between Hal Roach two-reelers and television, revered comic Ben Blue and his all-comedy show opened at Harold's Club Seventh Floor Fun Room for a four-week engagement, Tuesday, Jan. 4, 1966. Blue, whose first job at the age of 13 was imitating Charlie Chaplin in front of theaters to ballyhoo the latest Chaplin picture, is an institution in show business. His trademark—the sag eyes, mobile legs and face and split-second timing—are recognized by generations of showgoers, who have laughed with him through vudeville motion pictures, television and nightclub engagements. His durability proves his buoyancy and pantomime are still healthy enough to resist the virus of "sick" comedy, and his battered straw hat, the clothes from the rack of a Salvation Army haberdashery and the reliable cane are all a part of Blue's red hot comedy, just as the perpetually raised eyebrows over the tragedy "Who me?" facial expression.

ANOTHER OF RENO'S COMPLETE entertainment packages is being offered for fans, this season, in the Casino Show Room of the Mapes Hotel. Headlining the dusk-to-dawn bill at the Mapes is Reno's own Frankie Fanelli. The golden-voiced Paisano is ably abetted in the current show by the Joe Perrino Watani Revue. Adding to the live entertainment is personable Enola at the organ. Enola, whose soft melodies are ideal relaxers, starts things going at 4 p.m. every day. . . Follow the crowds to Ernie Van Asperen's new Gold Street in San Francisco. Hot 'n' cold hors d'oeuvres served during the cocktail hour from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. Specialty of the house is the full bottle of the best champagne, served by a glamorous Golden Girl for only $2 for one to four persons. Goldberg-Bowen sandwiches are featured at noontime, along with your favorite mid-day pick-me-up for a mere 50 cents. Entertainment with Ray Rose on the rinky-tink piano, and Doug Karr on the banjo evenings. Plus the famous New Year's Eve every night at midnight. "Round the clock fun at Gold Street."

"HELLO DOLLY" starring BETTY GRABLE opened at RIVIERA HOTEL's Versailles at the conclusion of a two-month road tour in Denver, Colo. Miss Grable inherited the company she heads from Mary Martin. It's the same cast which journeyed to South Viet Nam to entertain American troops, a few weeks ago. MAX SHOWALTER is featured opposite Miss Grable in the role created on Broadway by David Burns. Riviera has added a $400,000 fly loft to its spacious stage especially for the forthcoming production. JACK CATHCART's orchestra will provide musical backing. . . Bawdy BELLE BARTH and her blushing brand of comedy and song, returns to the spacious new Continental Theater of the Las Vegas HOTEL THUNDERBIRD on December 31 to bring in the New Year—as only Belle can. Miss Barth joins with THE TRENIERS and spectacular "CEST LA FEMME" for one of the biggest dusk-to-dawn entertainment treats in Las Vegas as the Thunderbird christens its unique new 800-seat theater.

EDDIE FISHER will be appearing over the New Year's weekend at Harrah's Tahoe. Fisher, one of the truly great singers of our time, has appeared at Harrah's on numerous previous occasions, and always has been a great favorite. He is scheduled through January 19, a three-week engagement. On the program with Fisher is an old-time vaudeville great, John Bubbles. In the Stateline Lounge are the De Castro Sisters, Jack Ross, the Big Beats, and Rocky Rockwell. Gaylord and Holiday and the Judy Lynn Show top the current entertainment attractions at Harrah's Reno Show Lounge. Also on the program are Bob Brannan and the DuPont Yum Show. . . Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club Manager, Ray Plunkett, contributes this idea to the highway beautification program: "Make beer cans in pastel colors!"

THE MARVELOUS FOOD at Bruno's of Ramor Oaks is the talk of the Peninsula. Under the new ownership of Bruno Fava, Ramor Oaks also features pianobar entertainment every Wednesday through Saturday by Twinkle Fingers "Charlie." . . New musical group, The Lively Ones, will play for dancing at the Villa Lounge, Villa Hotel. . . Finocchio's famous as the most unique nightclub in the West, enters the new year of '66 on its highest road of popularity. After breaking all previous records for attendance in '65, this center of the high entertainment of the art of female impersonation as achieved by 12 of the world's foremost actors devoted to this most difficult of the acting profession. . . The waitresses at Lew Lehr's wear buttons a la Avis Car Rentals that read "We Try Harder." Only Lew's are in English, Jewish, Arabic, Italian, French, and Greek. . . Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli has been enjoying much success, these days, with holiday parties, banquets and conventions going at full celebration speed.

Pacifica Citizen's Committee Studying Coast's Medical Needs and Facilities

WHAT are the existing medical facilities in Pacifica and how well do they supply that community's needs?

With these two questions in mind, the newly formed citizens' Hospital Committee of Pacifica is making an intensive study of all current medical needs and facilities.

Stanley Farber, Pacifica pharmacist, and head of the committee, described a meeting as producing some helpful information on local medical aid of which many Pacificans "are unaware."

A survey of doctors in the area, he said, showed that on daily basis there are 12 or 13 doctors available at all times in Pacifica. He stated that this did not include the doctors who were only on call or did relief or partial practice here.

THE COMMITTEE also studied a new report on first aid facilities of the police and the fire departments.

Neil Tremaine, chief of police, summarized the capabilities of the police department: "It is equipped to render general first aid but splinting and more involved treatments as well as ambulance service is not generally performed since these services are usually available."

All police personnel were described as having standard first aid cards with the exception of three new men undergoing training.

The police handle 20 to 25 first aid cases a month, principally auto accidents.

BUSINESS

COMMERCIAL PRINTING

Plant Moves To A New Building

The Post-Times Commercial Printing plant has opened for business in its new home at 1100 South Bayshore Boulevard after a one-day move of all its machinery, furniture and equipment from the prior location at Eighth and Railroad Avenues in San Mateo.

The new offices and mechanical departments occupy the new 8,500 square foot building constructed by Williams and Burrows for G. W. Williams Company.

The building was provided under a lease agreement between The Post-Times and G. W. Williams Company.

It is a single-story building, utilizing concrete tilt-up construction with exposed aggregate on the entrance side.

Ample parking is available to customers and a shipping-receiving area is provided in the rear.

A new offset press was installed in the building prior to the move of all other machinery from the prior location yesterday.

The new press doubles the offset printing capacity of The Post-Times Commercial Printing operation. A large web-fed offset press was purchased and installed late in 1961. Adequate offset and letterpress facilities are now available to meet all commercial printing needs of commercial printing users in the county.

The move was the second for The Post-Times Printing plant in a decade. In 1955, because of the growth of both the newspaper and commercial printing operations, it was necessary to move the commercial printing plant out of the Metropolitan Building in downtown San Mateo to quarters at Eighth and Railroad Avenues.

The new move was also made necessary by growth, and the new quarters will double the space formerly occupied at Eighth and Railroad Avenues. Manager of The Post-Times Commercial Printing operations is Glen Adams Jr. Architect of the building was Victor Wandmayer. Howard More, Williams and Burrows engineer, worked with Post-Times executives during the construction of the new building. The new building is located at the corner of Sunnybrae and South Bayshore Boulevards.

D.C. Station Is Held Up Second Time

A Daly City gasoline station was held up for the second time in five months early last Tuesday morning. A lone thief escaped with an estimated $100 in receipts, police reported.

Richard A. Brooks, an attendant at the Flying A Station at Lake Merced and Alemany Boulevards, told investigators a youth about 17 to 20 years old entered the station office about 2:30 and ordered him to open the cash register.

The attendant said the bandit appeared to be carrying something in his hand, which he thought might be a weapon.

After scooping out the contents of the register, the thief fled. Brooks described the bandit as having blond hair worn in "surfer" style.

Last August, three men held up the station. The trio subsequently were caught. One suspect pleaded guilty and the others were convicted of robbery after a trial, police said.

D.C. Dance Class Starts

Social dance classes for adults have started at the Westlake School at 80 Fieldcrest Drive.

The classes, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will be taught by Bill and Helen Morrow.

The Beginners' Class will be held at 7:30 p.m. and the Intermediate Class will meet at 8:30 p.m.

Both classes will meet for five consecutive Tuesday evenings.

Instruction will include fox trot, waltz, rumba, cha-cha, tango and swing, as well as some of the newer dances.

A charge of $3 per person will cover the five-week series.

Registrations will be taken on the opening night of class; however, reservations may be made in advance by contacting the Daly City Recreation Department at PL 5-0850.

CASH STOLEN

Officials of Vern's Restaurant at 210 Skyline Plaza Shopping Center in Daly City reported to police last week that thieves had stolen $110.

A BUSY YEAR IN S.S.F.

Gold Theft Topped 1965

By GEORGE GOLDING
SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, the industrial city, produced several of the county's more unusual news stories during 1965, though few of them have to do with industry.

Except the great gold theft, of course.

No one knew there was $49,000 worth of gold in South San Francisco, much less in a gaggle of buildings down over the side of a hill near the city dump.

Or, at least, few people knew there was that much gold about.

AMONG THOSE few were a handful of men who crept under the chain-link fence the night of August 12, hoisted the gold from refining tanks, and carried it away.

South San Francisco Police

Detectives Sal Rosano and Ted Silvas, under direction of Chief John Fabbri, arrested five suspects about three weeks later, firmly disproving the likelihood of spy-thriller type crime criminals evading the carefully operating machinery of the law.

The chief himself was a hero in the February holdup of the Buri Buri Branch, Bank of America, after having been secretly alerted by tellers Marianne Means and Susan Johnson.

Chief Fabbri and his men converged on the scene, and Fabbri was on hand when the two robbers walked from the bank to a waiting car with $27,000 loot in hand.

POLICE HAVE figured in other odd crimes during the year also, being stuck toward year-end with attempting to find the mother of a small boy, Adam Espinosa, apparently abandoned on South San Francisco streets one night in early November.

The boy's parents have been located, but just what action police can take is a question not yet answered.

Fabbri's officers are much more certain about what they'd do with the criminal involved with another boy, 17-year-old Barry Reardon, who was shot by a callous robber last March while pumping gas at an El Camino Real service station.

Policemen and firemen both got into the act on June 28, when a Pan American jetliner dropped an engine on San Bruno and scattered flaming bits of wreckage including a 30-foot long wingtip on homes in South San Francisco, before landing safely at Travis Air Force Base miles to the north.

South San Francisco was also the scene of San Mateo County's one and only "topless swim dancing" trial in June, when Gail Ann O'Leary appeared in the Northern Judicial District Court on charges brought against her in Daly City.

NOT ALL OF South San Francisco's news has been quite so striking during the past year; two news boys rescued a family from fire one early morning, a new drive-in movie theatre was started on a lumber yard's property, but city government has had its moments of real interest.

L. E. WASSERSTEIN Promoted

Wells Fargo Promotes a D.C. Resident

Leonard E. Wasserstein of 1190 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, has been promoted to assistant vice president and assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Union Trust Office.

Ralph J. Crawford Jr., vice president in charge of the Metropolitan Division, has announced.

Wasserstein, formerly loan officer, is replacing Robert J. Zaro who was promoted to vice president and manager of the Union Trust Office last month.

Wasserstein joined the bank in 1940 and has served in the Union Trust Office since 1942.

He is a member of the American Institute of Banking, the San Francisco School Committee of Jewish Community Relations Council, and the Board of Trustees of the Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way.

Born in Providence, R.I., he was raised in San Francisco.

He and his wife, Annabella, are the parents of two children, Martin Dana, 13, and Margaret Beth, 9.

S.S.F. Man Is Promoted

A. J. Duffy of 424 Mariposa Drive, South San Francisco, has been appointed assistant treasurer of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, it was announced by PG&E Treasurer Donald L. Bell.

Duffy, 41, has been assistant cashier since 1956 and added the duties of assistant secretary in 1962.

He first joined PG&E in 1946 in the stock transfer department. A native of Berkeley, he has a wife and five children.

Duffy's post as assistant secretary will be filled by the advancement of J. Norman Gehre, 52, presently in the office of the assistant treasurer and cashier.

Gehre, who has been with PG&E since 1942, and his wife reside at 26 Westhaven Drive, Daly City.

Savings Firm Changes Rate

American Savings and Loan Association of California has announced that it will compound interest daily, at its current annual rate of 4.65 per cent.

The change to daily compounding was effective January 1. American previously compounded interest quarterly.

"Our savers will now earn more than ever on their funds, as they earn interest on interest each day of the month," said Charles A. Wellman, American Savings president.

"Savings accounts will actually earn 4.97 per cent, when the 4.65 per cent current annual rate is compounded daily and maintained for a year," he said.

BBB Aide Decries New Sales Laws

Laws designed to unfairly penalize or restrict door-to-door selling are invariably repealed or fall into disuse, Charles Beasley, general manager of the Better Business Bureau of San Mateo County, noted this week in a statement.

His statement was based upon a bulletin issued by the National Better Business Bureau entitled, "The Right of Free Men to Engage in Legitimate Business."

The bulletin points out that a number of communities are considering legislation to restrict direct selling but warned that "the history of this country is replete with examples of the folly of building barriers against legitimate trade." And it added:

"Any governmental unit has, of course, the right validly to exercise its tax and police powers. One may ask, however, whether these powers should be exercised in a prohibitive manner, singling out direct selling—from all other forms of selling—for regulation, taxation or other discriminatory measures."

Bureaus, Beasley noted, believe that such legislation violates the spirit of fair play that has made American business great.

"The primary reason for the existence of direct selling," declares the bulletin, "is that many manufacturers have found that, for producer and consumer alike, it is one of the quickest and most effective means of selling that has been devised—particularly for the introduction of new products. With respect to certain kinds of goods, no other truly effective means of selling has been discovered."

Direct selling is one of "our three principal forms of merchandising along with retail stores and mail order houses," Beasley stated. "It fills a vacuum which might otherwise exist in the distributive process" and "contributes significantly to our democratic economy."

He described door-to-door selling as a creative and educational force in the country's economy, building markets for local retailers and introducing new products to consumers.

"Is it fair to single out these direct sellers by subjecting them to restrictive ordinances?"

"The overwhelming majority of direct sellers are honest vendors of honest merchandise. To demolish a multi-billion dollar industry in the hopes of catching a few thieves on its fringe is like burning down a barn to roast a pig."

Coast to Burn Old Yule Trees

Pacifica's annual burning of the community's Christmas trees will be held tomorrow night—the 12th night after Christmas—at Pedro Beach.

Members of the city's Teen Council collected the trees earlier this week from curbsides where residents had been asked to leave them. The Council will burn the trees.

Area Social Security Unit Alters Hours

The Social Security Office has new office hours, Everett M. Eaton, district manager of the office, has announced.

During January, February and March, Eaton said, the office will be open to the public on Saturday mornings from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

These new hours are in addition to the usual 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekday schedule.

"We must extend our office hours," Eaton explained, "so we can take care of all the 65-year-olds who must get in touch with Social Security by March 31, 1966, to qualify for Medicare."

Eaton further explained that practically everyone who is over 65 can qualify for Medicare July 1. This includes those who are still working full time and also those who have never worked under Social Security long enough to qualify for checks, Eaton added. But, he stressed, they must file an application.

The Social Security office serving North San Mateo County is at 761 South Van Ness Avenue in San Francisco.

The phone number is 556-4880.
